

Quest WERNER

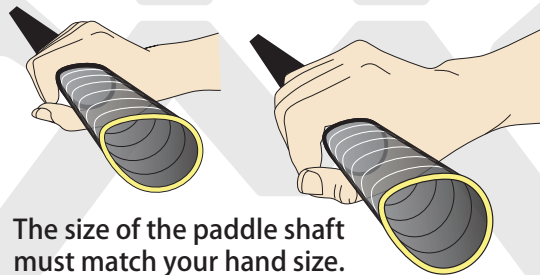

Straight Shaft

Atlantic Kayak Tours Says: This is a whitewater paddle, but many of our staff use it as a sea paddle. We stock this paddle in both whitewater and shorter sea lengths. Designed to be paddled at a very high angle. What we like about the Quest Paddle is the tip of the blade has an extra layer of glass, so it holds up to lots of abuse, which we like to give it. For paddlers that play hard the Quest is a great paddle. The down side of the Quest is weight.

Werner Says: The Quest is an ideal design ideal for intermediate and smaller paddlers who want a great all around whitewater paddle. Good initial power and mid size blade supports the faster cadence important for whitewater paddling. A great choice for youth and any smaller paddler when combined with our small shaft option.

Bent Shaft

The size of the paddle shaft must match your hand size.

Quest Specs

Paddle Lengths Straight 185-206 cm

Small Diameter Shaft Available

Straight and Bent Shaft Available

Fiberglass Blade Color: Jade

Blade Length 46",

Blade Width 18.5"

Weight for size 197 cm

Fiberglass 33 oz.

Carbon Blades 32 oz.

All Carbon, Bent Shaft 34oz.

Fiberglass Blades-Bent Shaft 35 oz.

MSRP 1 piece straight fiberglass: $228

MSRP 2 piece straight fiberglass: $243

MSRP 1 piece bent carbon: $333

The Bent Shaft Option reduces stress on wrists and elbows.

The Adjustable Ferrule System is standard on all Premium Paddles.

